Newly Renovated Liguanea Post Office to Host Launch and Rebranding Ceremony

Kingston, Jamaica. Wednesday, September 11, 2024 - Jamaica Post (Post and Telecommunications Department and the Postal Corporation of Jamaica) will be hosting a launch and rebranding ceremony to officially announce the reopening of the newly renovated Liguanea Post Office. The event will be held on Tuesday, September 17, 2024, at 10:00 am at Unit 12, Liguanea Post Mall, 115 Hope Road, Kingston.

The operations of the Liguanea Post Office were temporarily relocated to facilitate the renovation of the Hope Road location which was carried out in partnership with the National Identification System (NIDS). The extensive upgrades have resulted in a revamped post office that boasts new tile work, counters, several new computers, commercial services, branding and signage along with other general improvements.

This project aligns with plans to leverage strategic partnerships as well as to improve the aesthetics and functionality of Jamaica Post facilities while creating a more modern and comfortable environment for all stakeholders. Jamaica Post is resolute in its efforts to fulfil its mandate to modernize the operations of the island's postal network. The renovation and rebranding of the Liguanea Post Office is a testament of the ongoing transformation that is taking place. Jamaica Post is dedicated to providing contemporary post offices, and innovative services powered by digital technologies. This event signals the strength of the partnership between the NIDS Project and Jamaica Post.

The NIDS has been a key partner in the ongoing build-out of select Jamaica Post locations. This initiative is linked to the roll-out of several NIDS Enrolment Sites which will be offered at post offices islandwide. The collaboration between the entities further supports the drive to make the service accessible and Jamaica Post a one-stop shop for government services.

The partnership between the Office of the Prime Minister/NIDS Project and Jamaica Post is a testament to our commitment to modernizing Jamaica and improving the lives of our citizens. Together, we're building a service excellence network that's not just for today, but for generations to come. Over the next 6 to 8 months, we will witness the transformation of 23 additional post offices, in addition to the completed site at the Central Sorting Office (CSO) in Kingston, to add value to people's lives.

The postal service remains committed to transforming its operations, service offerings and locations while leveraging mutually beneficial partnerships, in an effort to remain the preferred logistics partner.
