Don't Get 'Ketch'!

Remember, Scammers are Still Phishing

Jamaica Post reminds its valued customers that scammers are still searching for their next victim. Be on the lookout and don't get caught.

Some customers have reported receiving suspicious messages requesting that they click on links, provide their sensitive data, update their delivery address and make payment online. These fake messages may express a sense of urgency, giving deadlines and threatening to return mail items. We wish to assure you that such messages and requests did NOT originate from Jamaica Post.

Here are some tips to help you avoid getting caught by phishing scams:

- Do NOT click on suspicious links.
- Do NOT share your sensitive personal data.
- Contact Jamaica Post at info@jamaicapost.gov.jm or visit www.jamaicapost.gov.jm to query or verify information relating to postal services.

Jamaica Post thanks all stakeholders for their continued support and wishes for everyone to stay safe from phishing attacks.
